Below is an outline of the presentation given by Martin Nicholls, Director of Place for Swansea Council and the discussion that followed. Martin agreed to send a copy of the presentation for circulation to the Exec.

Martin Nicholls' (MN) presentation included an overview of the Council position in relation to the climate emergency declared on 27th June 2019. Progress on delivering actions will be overseen by the Council's Future Generations and Equalities Policy Development Committee. One proposal is for the Council to publish a Swansea Climate Change Charter and encourage partners and other organisations to adapt and adopt it. MN handed around the latest draft of the charter for consideration and comment.

MN presented some of the options being considered regarding the scope of an action plan – but pointed out that this may be influenced by work currently being done by others at a national level. The Council action plan would need to be deliverable but could perhaps include some things that are currently not affordable or permitted. It would start with functions under the direct control of the Council and may also include areas where the Council could 'influence' others.

The Council needs to map out the existing policy context and existing actions being delivered – there are already some strong commitments e.g. guidelines to enable/encourage local procurement are being changed. There is still uncertainty about baselining but the Welsh Government are developing a baselining tool and guidance for local Authorities to provide a common methodology. The aim is to have a Council strategy and action plan in place by the end of March 2020 – this might include current and future actions. There is also a proposal to provide a ten point plan for individuals.

A Climate Change conference/market place event is being planned for early in the new year to raise awareness and seek views on what actions the council could take.

MN referred to earlier discussions with DH and PMD regarding the possibility of SEF helping with stakeholder engagement and wider consultation around the development of an Action Plan

DH commented that many organisations were developing their own Climate Action Plans and that SEF and the Council could play a useful role in helping to develop a common framework so that these individual plans could be combined to into an overarching Climate Action Plan for Swansea.

HS suggested that the target of preparing an action plan by March 2020 is too ambitious and also suggested that the related engagement work could be linked to the COP due to take place in Glasgow later in 2020. JC suggested that there is a need for some quick wins and then longer-term plans. AD pointed to achievements already made e.g. recycling, new housing but highlighted that transport is a big issue and referred to air quality, EVs and the need to link strategies.

PA raised the importance of public engagement and referred to citizen's assemblies, community training, sharing best practice examples and participatory budgeting. PA also raised the issue of divestment. MN reported on the Council's work in supporting a crowd-funding facility.

JS suggested that there needs to be a number of subgroups established for specific issues such as transport, housing and energy. PM said that there is a need for some process and structure to help everything hang together. MN agreed with comments made by others e.g. the need for quick wins, public engagement and best practice examples. PA suggested a working group and strategy specifically for engagement.

RW referred to the excellent presentation given by Paul Allen at the Working with Nature Conference and suggested that it would be good to invite him back to speak to the Council and others, possibly at the event in January.

The need for additional resources for this work was highlighted. MN referred to the recent WG Climate Change Action Fund .HG suggested that there is some RDP staff resource available to support this work.

ACTION: It was agreed that PA and PM would organise two separate task group meetings before Christmas – one focused on public engagement and the other on supporting the action planning process.
